

U.S. Equity Fund

Class W USD Acc

The Fund

Investment objective

The U.S. Equity Fund aims to provide long-term capital appreciation.

Policy

The Fund invests at least 70% of assets in large cap equity securities of U.S. companies. It may also invest its remaining assets in smaller and medium-sized quoted companies and may use financial derivative instruments.

Philosophy

We believe companies delivering compounding cash flow growth bought at the “right price” are likely to outperform through investment cycles. We run a portfolio of long-term holdings in companies that we believe have a sustainable competitive advantage, can compound cash flows, and that we seek to purchase at compelling discounts to intrinsic value.

Note: The cumulative chart and tables above show the simulated past performance of the Fund based on the launched AA USD class from share class inception date, 21 July 2008 to 11 May 2023. This simulation reflects the current ongoing charges of the W USD Acc class rather than the charges actually incurred by the AA USD class. Thereafter from 12 May 2023 the Fund performance is the class W USD Acc. Performance in the first year is partial.

Past performance is not indicative of future results. The Fund’s investment return and principal value will change with market conditions and you may have a gain or loss when you sell your shares. Changes in exchange rates may have an adverse effect. Performance data source: Manulife Investment Management, based upon Class AA shares in USD and Class W Acc shares in USD, includes fees and charges. Returns greater than one year are annualised. Current performance may differ from figures shown.

Risks

All investments involve risk, including the possible loss of principal. There is no guarantee investment objectives will be met. Past performance is not indicative of future results. Investment return and principal value will fluctuate so shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost.

Equity Market Risk: the Fund's investment in equity securities is subject to general market risks, whose value may fluctuate due to various factors, such as changes in investment sentiment, political and economic conditions and issuer-specific factors.

Natural Resources Sector Risk: by focusing on the natural resources sector, some Funds carry much greater risks of adverse developments than a Fund that invests in a wider variety of industries.

Geographical Concentration Risk: the concentration of the Fund's investments in securities of American companies may result in greater volatility than portfolios which comprise broad-based global investments. The value of the Fund may be more susceptible to adverse events in the region.

Liquidity and Volatility Risks: in adverse market conditions, the Fund's investments may become difficult to sell for full value or at all, which could affect performance and could result in delays when you sell your shares.

Use of Financial Derivatives Instruments (FDIs): The Fund intends to use financial derivative instruments ("FDIs") for investment, efficient portfolio management and/or hedging purposes.

For a more detailed explanation of risks, please refer to the "General Risk Factors" section and "Appendix I" of the Prospectus.
