Fund update

The Fund underperformed the benchmark return. The Fund's tilt to small caps and value exposure was unrewarded in the market environment. In sectors, stock selection within health care was ineffective including overweights to UnitedHealth, Roche and Medtronic, and off-benchmark positions in HU Group Holdings and Nippon Shinyaku. Selection in industrials was also unhelpful, notably a position in JGC Holdings although an overweight to Uber contributed positively. In financials, benefits from an overweight to UniCredit were offset by overweights to BNP Paribas and ING. On the other hand, stock selection within communication services was rewarded. Although an overweight to Alphabet detracted, this was mitigated by an overweight to Meta. Elsewhere an underweight to Apple and overweight positions in chipmakers TSMC and ARM Holdings were beneficial.
