Manulife Absolute Return Opportunities Fund (“the Fund”)

Class W USD Accumulating IE00BZ17YJ18

A sub-fund of Manulife Investment Management II ICAV (“the ICAV”)

OBJECTIVES AND INVESTMENT POLICY

Investment Objective: The Fund seeks to achieve a positive return in all market conditions. The Fund employs an actively managed investment strategy.

The Fund uses the BofA Merrill LIBOR 3-month Constant Maturity Index (USD) as a benchmark for performance comparison purposes only and does not track the performance of the benchmark. As of 1 April 2021, this benchmark will change to ICE BofA 0-3 Month T Bill.

Investment Policies: The Fund invests across global developed and emerging markets primarily through Equities; ERS; fixed and floating rate investment grade and below investment grade Debt Securities of corporate, government and government agency issuers; exchange traded funds (which may provide commodities exposure) and FDI.

The Fund may also invest in other UCITS and securities which have both debt and equity characteristics.

The Fund will take long (benefitting the Fund when the security rises in value) and short (using FDI to benefit the Fund when the security falls in value) positions. The Fund may also use FDI for hedging or efficient portfolio management and stock lending contracts for efficient portfolio management only. The use of FDI may introduce leverage into the Fund.

The sub-investment manager seeks to utilise tactical asset allocation (such as emphasising a particular sector or country) across and within asset classes to identify long and short-term investment opportunities within equity, fixed income, currency and commodity markets.

Definitions:

Debt Securities: may include but are not limited to various types of bonds, notes, debentures, securities whose principal is linked to the rate of inflation and money market instruments.

Equities: common stocks and preferred stocks (shares with no voting rights that usually pay fixed dividends).

ERS: equity related securities that allow investors to have equity exposure to a company in another jurisdiction through a securities market outside of that jurisdiction.

FDIs: a contract between two or more parties whose value depends on the rise and fall of the underlying asset.

Distribution Policy: For Accumulating Classes, any income less expenses realised will be accumulated and reinvested into the net assets of the Fund. For Distributing Classes, any income less expenses earned will be distributed in accordance with the distribution policy in the prospectus.

Fund Currency: The base currency of the Fund is USD.

Share Class Currency: The currency of this class is USD. Where this class is representative of another share class, the currency of the represented share class may differ from the currency of this class and may be an unhedged share class.

Dealing Frequency: You may buy and sell shares on any day on which Euronext Dublin and New York Stock Exchange are open for regular business.

This Fund is intended as a long-term investment, and therefore may not be appropriate for investors who plan to withdraw their money within the short to medium term.

RISK AND REWARD PROFILE

This indicator is calculated in line with EU regulations based on the risk limit for the Fund and is not a reliable indication of the future risk profile. The risk category shown is not guaranteed and may change over time. The lowest category does not mean a risk-free investment. The Fund is exposed to additional risks not captured by this indicator including, without limitation:

Concentration Risk: the Fund may concentrate investments in a certain sector or region and, as such, be more affected by events in that sector or region than a more diversified fund.

Credit/Counterparty Risk: a party with whom the Fund contracts for securities may fail to meet its obligations (e.g. fail to pay principal or interest or to settle FDI) or become bankrupt, which may expose the Fund to a financial loss.

Currency Risk: changes in exchange rates may reduce or increase the value of non-U.S. Dollar denominated assets held by the Fund. There can be no guarantee that currency hedging will be successful in mitigating such effects.

Debt Securities Risk: Debt Securities are affected by changes in interest rates, and credit quality. When interest rates rise, bond prices may fall because investors may be able to obtain a more attractive rate of interest elsewhere. The Fund will be more sensitive to interest rates depending on the average maturity or average duration of its bond investments. Below investment grade securities are more sensitive to economic, regulatory and social developments and are subject to heightened Liquidity Risk.

Equity Securities Risk: the value of a company's equity securities is subject to changes in the company's financial condition and overall market and economic conditions.

Emerging Markets Risk: emerging markets are more sensitive to economic and political conditions than developed markets. They present additional market, credit, currency, liquidity, legal, and other risks as compared with developed markets.

FDI and Leverage Risk: FDI may fluctuate in value rapidly and leverage through FDI may cause losses that are greater than the original amount paid for the relevant FDI. The Fund may be exposed to market risks relating to movements arising from the implicit volatility of the securities making up an index. Investors may be exposed, in particular, to downward trends in volatility.

Liquidity Risk: this Fund will invest a portion of its assets in comparatively illiquid assets/securities. During certain times, the Fund's investments may become difficult to sell which may result in delays when you sell your shares.

Operational Risk: material losses to the Fund may arise as a result of human error, system and/or process failures, and/or inadequate procedures or controls.

Share Class Currency Risk: (Hedged Classes) there can be no guarantee that currency hedging will be successful in mitigating the effects of currency fluctuations on non-USD classes. (Unhedged Classes) performance of unhedged classes may be affected by changes in exchange rates between the class currency and the US Dollar.

For more information on these and other applicable risks see the sections "Investment Risks and Special Considerations" and "Investment Risks Applicable to each Fund" in the prospectus.
